

Bob The Builder: Four Naked Workmen (Loose Leaves Book 2)

This gay short story features four workmen, two builders, a joiner and a plumber. Hard work, nude sunbathing and sexual testosterone leads to some expected and to some unexpected couplings. In this episode we have a straight man seduction, a gay tease, a curious gay man, and male friendship that leads to homosexual friendship. Exposed male flesh and revealed cocks lead the guys to experiment and express their homoerotic leanings as they admire each others muscles and equipment. Nude sunbathing allows the workmen to inspect each others physiques and leads to sexual excitement and intense homoerotic feelings. A one hour short read for those who enjoy male relationships. Extract: Roger stroked his erection, lazily as the young Charlie, slowly, tantalisingly turned his body sideways. At first Roger just saw a tuft of armpit hair under Charlies right arm. The boy was a delightful tease! Charlie put his hands up above his head and leaned forward against the wall to look down at his cock which was now on full sideways display to Roger. Roger stroked his own massive erection as he took in the glorious sight of the youth. His cock was not exactly soft, not exactly hard. It was in that in-between phase. But the naughty boy had pulled his foreskin back to display his charms. His cock hung above his balls. He liked it when his foreskin was back, it was more comfortable for him when he started to get hard and it made his cock look bigger. He knew he had some competition from the man on the bed. Of course he would never be as huge, but neither did he want to let himself down now that he was being inspected for the first time by this exciting gay man.
