

A DIFFERENT TYPE OF VAMPIRE: WATERSPORTS

A vampire story with a difference. Lucia comes of age in a small orphanage in eastern Europe and is told she has been assigned to the nursing academy to train as a nurse - even though she has an abhorrence of blood. She is also given a letter from her father. Reading it she learns of her inheritance. He, a vampire, has played with her genetics in the hope of creating a better vampire, one that doesn't need to stay out of the sunlight, one who can survive on a substance other than human blood. Only his skills aren't sufficient to tell her what that alternative substance is. One of a long line of experiments, all of which have died, she is left to herself to find the substance that will finish her development and turn her into a new and different type of vampire. This story of 16,000 words includes floggings, lesbian sex and watersports. Please do not read if any of these activities offend you.
