

Right Mate, Lets Get On With It

Right Mate, Lets Get On With It explores the outrageous accomplishments and inner workings of one of the most powerful rope teams in mountaineering history the partnership of Australian Andrew Lindblade and Kiwi Athol Whimp. Together, they climbed some of the most difficult, dangerous, and beautiful mountains in the world -- among them Jannu and Thalay Sagar, vertiginous Himalayan summits that make Mount Everest look like a bump. Tragically, Athol Whimp died in a fall in the mountains of New Zealand in early 2012. Right Mate, Lets Get On With It was originally published in the June, 2004 issue of Climbing (No. 321), and veteran mountaineer and author Gregory Crouch has updated and eReleased the story in Athols honor with Andrew Lindblades cooperation and nineteen of his best photos. Originally intended for a climbing audience, this eVersion includes a glossary explaining climbing jargon so non-climbers can better appreciate these amazing men.
